“ Our lawyer, Lucie Marsden, was very professional, provided excellent advice, was extremely patient in answering our many questions and had excellent inter-personal skills. The experience was stress free and almost enjoyable, discussion of Wills and death can never be total enjoyable! In the final analysis, the question you have to ask yourself is, are we confident in the integrity of the legal documents we now hold, as confidence provides peace of mind? We are looking forward to many nights of peaceful sleep, thanks to Estate First Lawyers.

Lucie is an associate at Estate Frist Lawyers. She was admitted as a solicitor of the Supreme Court in 2001 after completing 2 years of Articles of Clerkship with a Brisbane firm. She was also admitted as a solicitor of the Supreme Court of England and Wales in 2004.

Lucie has a Business degree majoring in Accounting, as well as a Law degree from Queensland University of Technology. Lucie is a member of the Society of Trusts and Estate Practitioners and QLD Law Society.

Lucie has for the past 12 years practised exclusively in the areas of estate planning, taxation and trusts. Her understanding of financial statements, tax and superannuation issues is invaluable when reviewing a client's financial position and business structures. She enjoys working in collaboration with accountants, financial planners and other advisors to provide a holistic approach to meeting the client's estate planning objectives. Lucie provides high quality estate planning advice to clients for the transfer and protection of their wealth in a tax effective way, and to ensure that the client's various business structures align with their estate plan.
